

STANLEY BALDWIN IS NEW PREMIER OF ENGLAND

JOINT MILITARY ACTION AGAINST BANDITS LOOMS

Foreign Troops May Attempt Rescue Of
Captives

WARN GOVERNMENT Notice Served That Pris- oners Must Be Released Within 24 Hours

Washington, May 22.—The United States government stands ready to do everything possible to save the American citizens held captive by the Shantung train bandits, but will act only on the advice of Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister in Peking. It was announced at the White House this afternoon after the cabinet meeting.

The entire session of the cabinet was devoted to a discussion of the Chinese situation and it was made plain that both President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes regard it as extremely serious.

Washington, May 22.—American and other foreign troops stationed in China are said to be preparing to rush to the hills in Shantung province to rescue from the Sookchow bandits the American and other foreign prisoners held there.

The diplomatic representatives of all countries whose citizens are included in the group of captives served notice upon the Chinese government that unless the prisoners were released in 24 hours the rescue would be undertaken by foreign troops.

At the same time the diplomatic body announced that, despairing of action by China's officials, they would take up direct negotiations with the bandits for the release of the prisoners before ordering the troops into action.

The peril of the situation of the captives became known through the arrival of Senora Vera, bride of Manuel Vera, the paper manufacturer of Guadalajara, Mexico, who was released by the bandits. She was seriously ill and was taken to a hospital. At the same time a message arrived from the Chevalier Musso, prominent Italian, among the prisoners, and asking that his relatives in Italy be sent a message telling of his resignation to impending death.

This message has stirred the foreigners throughout China and demands are pouring in from private as well as diplomatic sources upon the Chinese government to take action to save the prisoners.

Uprising Feared.

The situation's political turn has caused grave fears that a general uprising against foreigners may spread throughout China, and it was reported that the bandit chiefs, who number among them several who were students in American and European colleges, would hold the prisoners hostages for the resignation of President Li Yuan Hung, demanding a president and government of their own choosing. At the same time the message of the Chevalier Musso indicated that the foreign-hating element of the bandits might bring death to the captives at any moment, despite the more pacific leanings of the student leaders.

Strong pressure was brought to bear upon the state department and white house, urging the United States to take the initiative against the existing chaos in China. Inquiries made of individual members of the cabinet indicate complete unanimity of opinion, favoring an immediate ultimatum to the Chinese government, to be followed by military action in case of failure to comply.

The first problem to be solved is that of securing the safety and freedom of Americans and other foreigners held by the bandits. The second is the urgent necessity of keeping open the large trade avenues, which are practically closed. Had the captives been released when the demands were first made, it is more than likely the incident of the train holdup would have been ignored, at least until fall. Now the situation is such as to demand immediate action, it is believed.

STATE BANKS SHOW INCREASED RESOURCES

Columbus, May 22.—There has been a steady increase in the resources of state banks in the eight largest cities of Ohio for more than a year, according to figures given out today by H. E. Scott, state superintendent of banks.

STORMS IN WESTERN OKLAHOMA TAKE A TOLL OF SEVEN LIVES

Damage to Growing Crops Placed at Several Hundred Thousand Dollars—Nine Counties in Storm Area Reports Indicate.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 22.—The death toll from storms which swept western Oklahoma last night and early today is placed at seven, according to reports received here today. The seven are reported to have lost their lives in the Pan Handle Country. Six of these lives were lost in Dewey County at Leedy, according to reports. Damage to growing crops is estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

GOVERNMENT AGENTS DO NOT UNDERSTAND TAX BLANK SAYS FESS

Cincinnati, O., May 22.—If you can't understand your income tax blank—and it's almost a cinch bet that you can't—there is no need for worry, for even government officials don't understand it.

This admission was made here last night by Senator Simeon D. Fess, who spoke before the Cincinnati Life Underwriters. He said in part:

"The tax laws are revised and amended so often that the employees of the various revenue districts, throughout the country, have not the time to familiarize themselves with the statutes on the books."

GERMANY'S OFFER TO COVER PERIOD OF THIRTY YEARS

Will Offer Fifty Billion Payable In Annuities.

Berlin, May 22.—Fifty billion gold marks, payable in annuities covering a period of 30 years, or 30 billions, "present actual value," in two or three payments, from which there is to be no deduction for interest.

This is said to be the substance of a new reparations offer to the allies which will come before the German cabinet as soon as Chancellor Cuno and Foreign Minister Rosenberg return to Berlin.

As securities for payment the customs and a number of special monopolies are mentioned. The railways have again been dropped as security, because they are now operating at a large deficit and are not to be regarded as guarantees.

The text of the new note has been completed. Germany in this note in effect adopts Bonar Law's plan. Whether the resignation of the British premier will cause any change in the German government's present intentions is not clear. It is not believed in parliamentary circles, however, that the change in the head of the British cabinet will have any great bearing on the German attitude.

ADD NEW MEMBERS TO DIRECTORSHIP OF COMMERCIAL BANK

The board of directors of the Commercial and Savings Bank, in meeting Monday evening, increased the number of directors of that institution from seven to nine.

The death of C. L. Babb, president of the bank, caused one vacancy and the board appointed the following new members, Adolph Moser, W. R. Harner, and George E. Hudson. The board now consists of H. H. Conklin, President; Ed. S. Foust, Vice-President; A. E. Faulkner, Cashier; W. L. Miller, R. R. Grieve, C. M. Austin, Adolph Moser, W. R. Harner, and George E. Hudson.

Russell Kent was born August 29, 1921. He is survived by his parents, and one sister, Norma Elleen.

Funeral services will be held at Trinity M. E. Church, Wednesday afternoon, at two o'clock with interment at Woodland Cemetery.

BANDIT OBTAINS $4,000 FROM BANK IN COLUMBUS, OHIO

Forces Three Employees to Back of Room at Point of Gun.

Columbus, May 22.—Two armed bandits entered the branch bank of the Citizens Savings and Trust Company at North High and Russell Streets at 9:25 this morning, forced the three employees to the back part of the room, rifled the cash drawer of about $4,000 and escaped despite two shots fired at him by Branch Manager Harry Richter as he was running down Russell Street.

INVESTIGATION OF FATAL ACCIDENT MONDAY STARTED

Carlisle, O., May 22.—Railroad officials today began an investigation of the wreck which occurred at the B. and O. Railroad crossing late yesterday when five persons, three women and two children, were killed, and another seriously injured.

The investigators are attempting to determine if the driver of the truck, in which the family of Bortram Williams was moving from Franklin to Germantown, fainted when he realized his truck was to be hit. Constable C. F. Peters, of Carlisle, an eye witness, believes Jess Gross, 50, driver of the truck, collapsed as his machine approached the crossing when he realized the passenger train was going to hit the truck.

The dead are: Mrs. Margaret Williams, 43; Sarah Williams, 11, daughter of Mrs. Williams; Mrs. Lela Williams, 20, daughter-in-law and her two children, Mary Louise, aged 4 and Robert, aged six months. The injured were Jess Gross, 50, driver of the truck, who received internal injuries from which he is expected to recover and Solen Kindred, 50, bruised and cut. The women and children were riding on furniture with which the truck was loaded. Bert Williams, husband of Mrs. Margaret Williams, was in Dayton, and did not learn of the tragedy until last night.

Gross said a nearby elevator building and a cut of cars obscured the view of the track and Engineer S. J. Bennett of the passenger train also said his view was obscured by the cars.

COUNTY SURVEYOR RESIGNS POSITION TO MANAGE FARM

William J. Davis, Greene County surveyor, presented his resignation to the county commissioners, Tuesday, the resignation to take effect Saturday night. According to Mr. Davis, he told the commissioners of his intention several days ago. No successor to the office had been appointed Tuesday afternoon.

The need of a manager for his mother's farm near Hillsboro, is given by Mr. Davis, as the reason for his retirement from the county office. Inability to secure farm labor has left his mother and sister in charge of the farm, which he will have charge until fall.

The resignation of Mr. Davis, affects only his present term and has no effect on the new term, for which he was elected on the Republican ticket last November. He will return to the surveyor's office at the expiration of the present term in September.

Mr. Davis came to Xenia as deputy under former Surveyor, Joseph Fawcett, of Yellow Springs. Upon the retirement of the latter in June 2, 1918, he was appointed to the office for the unexpired term, and later for the full term to which Mr. Fawcett had been elected. He was elected twice to the office the second elective term commencing next September.

SURVIVORS OF ILL-FATED SHIP ARE PICKED UP

Three Hundred and Thirty Persons Are Rescued in St. Lawrence

HITS ROCK IN FOG Shipping Suffers From Ice and Inclement Weather Conditions

Halifax, N. S., May 22.—The Canadian Pacific steamship, Empress of Britain, enroute from Liverpool to Quebec, reported by wireless today that she had picked up 330 persons from the 11,000 ton steamship Marvale, which was sunk yesterday in the St. Lawrence River.

The Marvale was formerly the Algonquin liner Corsican. When lost, she was being operated by the Canadian Pacific Company. She was groping her way through a thick fog off the New Foundland coast, when she struck a rock near Trepassy.

A gaping hole was torn in the vessel's hull. Her engines were reversed and the ship was backed off, but she was so badly damaged, it was impossible to beach her. The passengers and crew were taken ashore in small boats but later were picked up by the Empress of Britain which was diverted from her course to take them back to Quebec. Fog and ice have done heavy damage to shipping. The coal carrier, Glen Muriel, from Sydney for Montreal was wrecked in St. George's Bay.

The White Star liner Onxian from Montreal for Liverpool was damaged by ramming an ice floe and was compelled to put into St. Johns for repair, several hours.

The schooner Marcella was crushed by ice and sunk with her cargo of 1200 cases of whiskey off Cape Breton.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF COLONEL YOUNG

Mrs. Ada Young of Wilberforce, widow of Colonel Charles Young, and President J. A. Gregg of Wilberforce University are among local people who will attend the burial of Colonel Young in Arlington Cemetery, Washington D. C., June 1.

Mrs. Young and President Gregg are named on a committee to attend the burial by Governor Donahy, acting in accordance with a bill passed by the State Legislature. The committee also includes as members, State Representative Harry E. Davis, of Cleveland; W. S. Thomas, Mansfield; Captain James E. Bush, Dayton; T. A. Caldwell, Warren and Major O. J. Scott, Columbus, who served as chaplain in Colonel Young's Regiment. Others on the committee are mostly Spanish-American War Veterans.

ASIATIC FLEET OF U. S. NAVY READY

Washington, May 22.—Practically the entire Asiatic fleet of the American navy, consisting of 18 destroyers, a cruiser, a gunboat, a supply ship and auxiliaries, are concentrated at Chief, Shantung port, nearest the bandit stronghold, ready for any emergency. These vessels are prepared to make landings of crew detachments if deemed necessary. The units, if sent into the interior, would greatly weaken the ships' complements, but it is believed the engineer force left aboard to take care of the machinery could hold off any possible attack from shore. A few gun crews would necessarily be left behind, and the deck forces would be drawn upon for the landing party.

HERRICK DENIES CHARGES OF FRAUD

Columbus, May 22.—State Highway Director Herrick has denied all charges of favoritism, collusion or fraud, relative to the awarding of contracts for road projects. The directors denial was made in connection with the hearing here by Common Pleas Judge David H. Thomas, Marietta, of the four injunction suits instituted by E. C. Slack, Columbus, alleging discrimination against contractors in favor of the Highway Construction Company, Elyria, seeks to enjoin the company from proceeding with highway improvements in Lorain County, contracts for which work were awarded the company by Director Herrick. Slack also alleged that there had been favoritism and collusion.

SEEK TO BREAK WILL

Mrs. Ethel Croker White, of Cedarhurst, New York, daughter of the late Richard Croker, for many years leader of Tammany Hall in New York, has been permitted by the Irish courts in Dublin to interpose and become party to the suit brought by her brothers and sisters to break the will of their father, leaving several million dollars to his second wife, Beulah Benton Edmondson Croker and cutting off his children. Croker, whose first wife, Miss Elizabeth Frazier, whom he married in 1873, died, immediately married Miss Edmondson, a Cherokee Indian Princess. In her fight to break her father's will, Mrs. White alleges that at the time of her marriage to Croker, Miss Edmondson was the undivorced wife of Guy Morone, of Northport, Massachusetts, and that Croker was ignorant of that fact. Croker spent the last years of his life in Ireland, where he died and was buried. He had long been estranged from all his children.

TWO POLICEMEN KILLED AND TWO WOUNDED IN CLASH WITH OUTLAW

Attempt to Arrest Man Wanted in Connection With Holdup Results Fatally—Affray Takes Place in Jersey City Early Tuesday.

Jersey City, N. J., May 22.—Two policemen were shot and killed, and two wounded early this morning, at 19 Manhattan avenue, where they had gone to arrest Frank J. Sayes, alias Frank Miller, wanted in connection with a holdup. The dead: John Black, a detective sergeant; Clarence Ware, patrolman. The wounded: James Walton, flesh wound in the head.

Lieutenant Harry Otis of West New York, N. J., shot through back, bullet entering stomach.

Sayes, alleged slayer of the policemen, was captured. He was subdued after a fight with other policemen and severely beaten. A woman, who claimed to be Sayes' wife also was arrested.

After the shooting, Sayes took refuge in the attic of a two-story frame structure. He was brought out by the use of tear gas bombs.

In spite of the exchange of shots, Sayes was not wounded. In subduing him, police beat him badly. The woman refused to give any information concerning herself or Sayes. Police said they recognize her as May Miller, a frequent dancer at the club.

Otis came from West New York early today with a warrant for Sayes' arrest and police had information that Sayes was in the house. Six of them surrounded the building, before they had a chance to call on him to surrender. Sayes went to a rear window, police say, and fired one shot that struck Walton in the head.

Black, Ware and Otis entered the front door and went up to the second floor, where Sayes' rooms were. Suddenly policemen outside heard the rattle of shots. They rushed into the place, and at the head of the stairs found all three officers shot. Black and Ware were dead.

A call for ambulances and reserves was sent out. All four victims were taken to the city hospital.

When the reserves reached the scene, the house was again surrounded. Police lines were formed to keep back crowds which gathered. Policemen, with drawn revolvers, entered the building and cautiously worked their way into room after room. They found all of them empty.

Finally Deputy Chief Thomas Wolfe noticed a trap door in the ceiling at one end of a little hallway. He directed his men to stay away from it, then sent to police headquarters for tear gas bombs. When they arrived, he began to hurl them at the trap door.

Police retired into the next room and closed the door. After a moment they opened it cautiously. Wolfe saw the foot of a man protruding from the opening. He seized it and pulled down Sayes, who had been partially overcome by the fumes of the bombs.

CO-EDUCATIONAL COLLEGES HAVE BIG ADVANTAGES TO OFFER

John Palmer Gavitt, feature writer for the New York Evening Post, addressed the students of Antioch, Monday, telling of some of his experiences while visiting various colleges in search of material for his publication. "Most of the places where I go," Gavitt said, "the first move is to show me the buildings. I tell them that I don't care whether their classes are held in a barn or under an umbrella—it's the spirit of the students that I'm interested in. Let me see and talk with the boys and girls, and I can tell any faculty all about their own institution."

"When the heads of Vassar, Smith and Bryn Mawr asked me what I thought of their colleges, I told them that they were nothing but numbers run by old maids. They retorted by saying that co-educational colleges are merely high grade matrimonial bureaus. In my opinion that's one of the finest things in favor of co-educational schools. After a girl's seen a fellow make an ass of himself for four years, and then marries him, she has only herself to blame. That beats the dance hall and summer resort."

GOVERNMENT TO CONTINUE TORY IN ITS POLITICS

King George Designates Chancellor of Exchequer Who Accepts

ACTING PREMIER Served in That Office Which Law Was On Continent

London, May 22.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Stanley Baldwin was designated this afternoon by King George as premier of England, in succession to Andrew Bonar Law, who resigned because of ill health. Chancellor Baldwin was acting premier during the recent absence of Bonar Law on the continent. The government continues to be Tory in politics.

Appointment of Chancellor Baldwin was made practically certain this afternoon when he was summoned to Buckingham palace for a long conference with King George. He left the palace at ten minutes after four. Although in a jubilant and jovial frame of mind, the chancellor had nothing to say to the press.

Baldwin's rise in public life has been rapid. He gained much popularity while chancellor of the exchequer for reducing taxes, reducing the price of beer and negotiating a settlement of the British war debt to the United States.

Baldwin's chief rival for the premiership was Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary. Curzon was opposed by the Tory die hards and by a coalition labor liberal group.

It is understood the failure to name Curzon was sop to the Laborites, who bitterly opposed the appointment of a member of the House of Lords to the premiership. The cabinet is expected to resign automatically tonight. The resignations according to custom would be put in the new premier's hands as soon as his appointment was officially announced. It is the usual procedure for the new prime minister to wait about 24 hours before announcing the personnel of the cabinet. In this instance few changes are anticipated. It is believed Sir Robert Home will succeed Baldwin as chancellor of the exchequer and that Lord Curzon will continue as foreign secretary.

Baldwin was slightly nervous, but smiling when he returned to 10 Downing street.

"I need your prayers more than your congratulations," said he to an International News Service correspondent. "I cannot say more. An official announcement will be made at once."

FAMOUS FOSDICK CASE MAY COME UP

Indianapolis, Ind. May 22.—The action of the New York legislature in repealing state prohibition enforcement legislation was deplored in a resolution presented to the 135th general assembly of the Presbyterian church here today. President Harding was commended for his stand for enforcement.

The resolution asked that no rum vessels be protected by the United States flag within the three mile limit.

Indianapolis, Ind. May 22.—The possibility of the famous Fosdick case coming up for discussion before the meeting of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of America enlivened the deliberations here today.

Successful on only one issue, that of having a "teetotaler" endorsed, and defeated in his ambition with regard to matters, William Jennings Bryan was expected to give the Presbyterians his view on what should be preached in the pulpits.

Others, however, among the Presbyterian commissioners, entertained strong views on the subject, among them the moderator, Dr. Charles F. Wishart, who, although not definitely aligned with the Liberals, has been lined up against Mr. Bryan on most of the matters which he has brought to the forefront of the assembly.

TURKS BLOW UP BRIDGE IN THRACE

CHAMPION ARMY SHOT ARRIVES IN XENIA FOR VISIT

Corporal Perry Swindler, K. Co., Eighth U. S. Infantry, arrived here Monday from Ft. Moultrie, S. C., where his regiment is now located, to spend a month's furlough with his father, James Swindler of this city. This is the first time he has been in Xenia since his enlistment practically four years ago for overseas service. During the majority of that time he was located with his regiment as part of the Army of Occupation stationed at Coblenz, Germany, returning from overseas only a few months ago.

During his army service, Corporal Swindler has qualified as an expert rifleman, pistol expert, and automatic rifleman and during the range tournaments overseas won several prizes because of his shooting prowess. He has a year and one half yet to serve on his last enlistment period.

CLEUTHS CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Toledo, May 22.—Charles B. Moore, Stephen Kalas and George Butz, three constables working out of Justice Butz's court at Monclova, near this city, were held by the police on first degree murder charges at the request of Coroner Henzler. They killed Anthony Mayer while searching his machine for liquor. "Moore, the evidence shows, fired the fatal shot. Coroner Henzler claims the constables had no warrant. Moore fired after Mayer knocked Kalas down.

MRS. HICKEY SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Restored Her Health

Worcester, Mass.—"I had some trouble caused by a female weakness and got so run-down and weak from it that I could hardly stand or walk across the floor. The doctor gave me all kinds of pills, but nothing helped me. I happened to meet a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I thought I would try it. After taking it a week I began to improve, and now I feel fine and am doing all of my housework, including washing, sewing and house cleaning. I have recommended your medicine to my friends, and I am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial, as I would like to help any one suffering the way I did from such a weakness."—Mrs. DELLA HICKEY, 4 S. OLD RIVALS COMING SUNDAY.
If old John J. Weather don't step in and knock over Manager Roy Bay-

liff's play-blocks just after he has them all set up for next Sunday afternoon's baseballing program, the electricians will tangle thumbs with the K. R. T. Club, which hails from Wilmington, old athletic rival of Xenia.

The Bayliffs, the Cincinnati Reds, and other great ball teams have been engaged in mortal combat with the weather man this year, and have won only temporary victories with the sleet and snow dispenser. Last Sunday, with one of the biggest games of the season on tap, rain fell in huge and gloomy gobs and closed the turnstiles at Washington Park before the visitors had even arrived on the scene.

It does not take a fan with a very long memory to hark back to the time when the baseball teams coming out of Wilmington represented the snappiest of the snappy. Back in the days of the old Clintons, the Quaker City turned out top-notchers for the semi-pro clubs in this section to gnash their teeth on.

Baseball tried to die at Wilmington, but a group of young business men refused to attend the obsequies. Instead these bugs got together and inaugurated Wilmington's new baseball club, the K. R. T. team—whatever that means. While the new outfit does not have the polish and glamour that identified the old Clintons, it is said to be the kind of baseballing aggregation that Wilmington fans are not ashamed of, and they believe their pets can teach the electricians some new diamond stunts.

Manager Bayliff has not announced assignments for the coming entertainment, but it is expected that Will McDonnell, the smiling box artist, who put in an fksome afternoon last Sunday because of the rain, will draw down the hurling job for the locals.

"TILLIE" HUSTON LEAVES GAME

New York, May 22.—Colonel T. L. Huston, selling his half interest in the New York Yankees to his erstwhile partner, Colonel Ruppert, has left thousands of friends, a dozen or so active enemies and one message. A list of his friends would fill a seed catalogue and his enemies are strictly non essential to the point at issue. The message is this:

"Keep boxing out of the baseball parks."

The colonel, a fighter at heart, is unalterably opposed to the business of fighting; when it is conducted within the confines of parks dedicated to baseball. The two, he believes, don't mix any better than sauer kraut and molasses. The colonel, however, is leaving baseball to its own devices. He is through with its problems and worries temporarily, at least, and will proceed to forget the game while he sits back and counts the installments on the $1,250,000 purchase price that is alleged to have closed the deal. His message therefore, is just a suggestion, a friendly warning.

Coming from a man who was a party, non-active perhaps, to the conduct of the milk fund bouts at the Yankee stadium and who figured in the negotiations that may yet bring the Willard-Firpo fight there his viewpoint is interesting. "Baseball can only suffer by its contact with boxing," he said today. "It is suffering now. Attendance at a rival park is bound to fall off the day a fight is held; in fact, for some days before and for several days after it. That is one practical side of the question."

"Another thing is that baseball essentially, is a clean sport. I am sorry that I cannot say the same for boxing. An undesirable element always gains a foothold in the active end of the sport and it is further handicapped by the fact that politics and politicians play a big part in its control. Baseball can only lose by being identified with it.

"Attendances," he continued, "have broken all records at the Yankee park but I believe they would have been greater if this field and the Polo Grounds had been kept out of the hands of boxing promoters."

"The psychic effect of coupling their names with boxing bouts has been to make the fans overlook the fact that they are intended for baseball only. I don't feel that baseball is gaining the interest it usually does at this stage of the race and I regard boxing as the cause."

It is generally understood that the transaction whereby Tex Rickard was granted permission to run boxing shows at the stadium was one of the reasons for the split between the two colonels. The other was the continued engagement of Miller Huggins as manager of the ball club. They were irreconcilable on both points.

LEAHEY-WALSH NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Leahey, daughter of Mrs. Michael Leahey, of North Miami Avenue, this city, and Mr. Preston Walsh, of Dayton, was solemnized at St. Bridget's Catholic Church, Tuesday morning, at 7:30 o'clock. The nuptial high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Albert A. Burke.

The only decoration of the church, was masses of spring flowers on the altar. The playing of the organ, marked the entrance of the bride party, led by Miss Mary Leahey, sister of the bride, as bride's maid, and Mr. William Walsh, of Dayton, brother of the bridegroom, who acted as best man. Miss Leahey wore a frock of green tulle, with silver slippers, with a band of green in her hair. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, tied with pink tulle.

The bride and bridegroom entered next. The bride was girlish in a gown of white crepe de chine, fashioned simply, with a veil of tulle falling to the floor, caught with a band of valley lilies. She wore silver slippers, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses, in shower arrangement. The single ring ceremony was used in uniting the couple. During the ceremony the children's choir sang. Thirty-five invited guests witnessed the service.

The wedding was followed by a breakfast at the home of the bride, where the same number of guests were received. The colors of pink and white were carried out in the decorations. A daintily arranged bride's table was centered with a pink and white wedding cake, while pink candles in crystal holders and tied with pink tulle were placed at each corner, and centered the smaller tables. A three course breakfast was served.

The bride tossed her bouquet among the guests, which was caught by Miss Katherine Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Walsh, left Tuesday afternoon, for their home on Ringold Street, Dayton. Mr. Walsh is employed at the Wright Aviation Field.

Mrs. Walsh wore away an outfit of gray, consisting of a gray crepe dress, with slippers, hat and gloves, to match, with a blue cape. Out of town guests present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John Walsh, of Mexico, parents of the bridegroom, Mr. William Walsh, Dayton; Mr. Vincent Walsh, Kansas City, Kansas; Mrs. Patrick Leahey, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. George Priest, Columbus; Mrs. Daniel Sheehan, and Mrs. Robert Smith, and two children, of Cleveland, and Mr. and Mrs. John Kelbie of Dayton.

What Co-operation Has Done

Little more than half a century ago, Gustavus F. Swift borrowed $20 from his father and started in the packing business.

Hard work on his part and on the part of the associates whom he presently gathered about him caused the business to grow.

When first incorporated, Swift & Company had six shareholders. The nation was growing and needed meat, and the young company grew also. As more money was needed the business was enlarged by enlisting the co-operation of more shareholders.

The first little plant at Barnstable, Mass., has given way to 23 modern packing plants strategically located. More than 400 branch houses and 600 car routes distribute the meat carried in more than 6,000 refrigerator cars.

Today Swift & Company's service in meat to retailers here and abroad represents the effort of nearly 100,000 people co-operating with their savings or daily toil.

More than 45,000 men and women have co-operated with us by investing their money in shares of Swift & Company.

Nearly 50,000 men and women who work in these offices, plants and branch houses—16,000 of whom also are shareholders—are giving us their co-operation in building the business. They take a just pride in the promptness and precision of its service and in the uniformity and high quality of its products. Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon, "Silverleaf" Brand Pure Lard, Premium Frankfurts and other Swift products are symbols of their hearty co-operation and of their belief in the Company.

HARDING ON THE LIFE OF ALEXANDER HAMILTON.

The hope and resolution upon which the recovery of the world depends could be attained if the world adopted Alexander Hamilton's conception of financial integrity and the sanctity of obligations. President Harding told Washingtonians gathered to unveil a statue of Hamilton at the Treasury Building last Thursday. He confined his remarks to the career of Hamilton and the lesson for all Americans to be found in that career which had for its keynote the establishment of the new Republic on a sound financial basis. Speaking on Alexander Hamilton was a familiar experience to Mr. Harding as the life of Hamilton was his subject on the Chautauqua tour he made while a member of the Senate.

Three descendants of the great statesman whose memory was being honored took part in the ceremonies—Miss Eleanor E. Hamilton, great-great-granddaughter of the first Secretary of the Treasury, pulled the strings to unveil the bronze statue, and the Rev. Edgar A. Hamilton, of Baltimore, and the Rev. Edgar L. Hamilton, of Anson, Ind., great-grandsons, the former pronouncing the invocation and the latter the benediction.

President Harding said: "I choose to stress the rugged honesty of this patriot statesman, because honesty will cure ten thousand ills of today. Honesty of leadership will share us the popular misconceptions which are ever menacing to democracy. Honesty in statecraft will point the way to impregnable heights. Honesty among nations will dissolve their differences so that new and lasting friendships may be bound by the ties of fraternity and mutual trust. Honesty in politics will reveal unerring public opinion and honesty in public service everywhere will diminish public waste and extravagance. Honesty of manhood and womanhood will abolish the sources of discontent which threaten the world's civilization and will bring us to a conviction regarding the fundamentals of the social fabric without which fundamentals there can be no progress."

SEVEN WONDERS OF THE MODERN WORLD.

Recently the editor of a popular scientific magazine sent letters to nearly one thousand scientists in Europe and America asking them to participate by ballot in a selection of what they considered the seven wonders of the modern world. About seventy per cent of these noted men responded, and the unanimity with which they voted led the editor to announce the result. The Panama Canal missed selection as one of the seven by just eleven votes. The seven modern wonders as agreed to are Radium, the Printing Press, the Wireless, the Aeroplane, Medical Antiseptics and Antitoxins, the Telephone and the X-Ray.

Some of our ministers have chosen to speak of this list in a more or less extended way. One of them, Rev. Dr. G. A. Briegleb, of Westlake, Presbyterian Church, Los Angeles, Cal., has arranged to preach a series of sermons on Sabbath evenings of April and May, in which he makes spiritual application of the physical facts involved. He announces his subjects as follows: Radium, a symbol of divine energy in its outworkings; The Printing Press, a silent witness of an Omnipotent God; The Wireless, a sublime illustration of spirit communication; The Aeroplane, a standing attestation of the possibility of miracles. Medical Antiseptics and Antitoxins, a suggestive reminder of Christian responsibility in civic affairs; The Telephone, a splendid instrument of God for revealing human nature; The X-Ray, a strange process by which the soul can be photographed.

The list as given is very suggestive, as we may be sure that each subject will be handled vigorously and with a sincere purpose of presenting spiritual lessons. If these seven modern wonders may be made to illustrate the eternal and changeless wonders of soul life and soul salvation, they will be used to accomplish good and desirable results.

WAGES FOR WIVES.

"With all my worldly goods I thee endow" is too fanciful and insecure a pledge to suit some of the delegates to the International Woman's Suffrage Alliance.

They think that's all very well for the marriage service, like the bridal veil and strewn rose petals and the sweetly sentimental strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. For the hard and sometimes grim years after the honeymoon, when rice is merely something to be boiled with raisins for a cheap yet tasty dessert, they ask something less poetic but more collectable before the law.

In a word, they want wages for wives. They want the lawmakers of the world to decree that a certain portion of a man's salary or income shall be allotted to his wife. If he does not hand it over voluntarily, they want to attach his pay-envelope.

The loudest advocates of the measure, it is interesting to note, were the delegates from England, where a wife has little legal standing; its most vigorous opponents, the Scandinavian women, whose national laws give a wife support commensurate with her husband's position. The women from the North argued that wages dishonored the married state and reduced wives to the position of paid housekeepers.

How much is a wife worth a week? The question might well be countered with another: How much is a husband worth a week? The statistician who can answer either question could appraise the sunrise and write price tags for the flowers of the field and the soft winds of summer.

The ordinary pay of domesticity is struggle and hope, worries and love, weariness and content, bills and the interest on the mortgage, and the cost of shoes for restless little feet. In a word, it is a sight draft on the not always solvent Bank of Life.—Public Ledger.

SEEMS AS IF FIVE YEARS OUGHT TO BE ENOUGH TO DO THE TRICK IN EVEN IF THEY DIDN'T KNOW HOW IN THE BEGINNING

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The first traction car from the Springfield and Xenia line to go over the D. and X. road made the trip yesterday to Dayton as a sort of experiment. There has been some talk of running the S. and X. cars through to Dayton over the D. and X. line and there is probably some plan of consolidation of the roads on foot.

The new schedule on the Pennsylvania lines will show that nineteen passenger trains will be run between Xenia and Columbus, after Sunday, including both east and west bound trains. Blue prints have been made for double tracking from Spring Valley to Cedarville.

The new addition to the seminary building on West Third Street, the coming summer will make quite a change in that locality, and will be quite an improvement.

Another sale of land to the Hoover and Allison Company has been made by Mr. John W. Prugh. A tract of six acres belonging to F. B. Dress and lying between the Ohio and Xenia Mills has been bought for $1500.

ANSWERED LETTERS

Anxious.—If you write to the makers of the toothpaste and tell them of the stain it made on your skin, they will probably advise you about bleaching it since they would know just what was in their preparation that caused this trouble. Ordinarily peroxide will bleach off a slight stain, so you might try that first.

B. M. F.—Your weight of 117 pounds is normal at 23 years of age with a height of 5 feet 2 inches. Almost any cream will do for cleansing as it is never allowed to remain on the skin any longer than is needed to dissolve the soil in the pores.

Mable.—Deep breathing will help to develop the bust! you will also help it if you dash cold water over it every day and follow this with light friction from a coarse towel.

A. M. and E. J.—At 19 years of age lines in the skin are not serious. Massage some cream into the pores each night and keep up your general health. After a long winter, such as we have had this season, most skins show the effect of it because of our habit of overheating our buildings.

Anxious.—The olive oil prescribed for gaining weight is the same as the best brands used for the diet. The amount that is usually taken is a tablespoonful in the same amount of grape juice three times a day.

Maria A.—Housework does not exercise all of our muscles, so that is the reason it does not keep the figure in perfect trim, but if you add to it by taking enough bending and stretching exercises you have most all of the needed ones to keep the figure supple. An excellent exercise to add is that of bending at waistline while you touch the floor with the tips of your fingers without bending at the knees.

Peggy.—A teacher of elocution or phonetics will help you correct that defect in your enunciation.

Cam.—You will prevent your blond hair from getting dark if you use lemon juice and baking powder in the last rinse after a shampoo. The proportions are two tablespoonfuls of juice, a half of a teaspoonful of soda to each quart of water. I will mail you a formula for the freckles on receipt of stamped, addressed envelope.

Fading.—To bring back that freshness to your skin you need to get the blood into circulation under it and to nourish the tissues. A light massage with applying cream will do this. In addition to this treatment use an astringent once each week, more or less as required, the number of times, dependent upon needs. CORBETT WOULD BUY THE REDS

New York, May 22.—James J. Corbett, former world's heavyweight champion pugilist, would become a baseball magnate. Representing a syndicate of business men, Corbett wired President Garry Herrmann of the Cincinnati Nationals: "Kindly state lowest terms for majority stock." Corbett declared he has long wanted to become so affiliated with baseball, and preferably with a National league team.

Today's Talk

There is a difference between being alone and being lonesome.

I may be alone and very happy—buried in the spirits of those I love, or in thoughts that wait upon me and run errands for me, or in ideas which spur my mind to its highest achievements.

But to be lonesome—what a feeling of helplessness comes over one.

At luncheon with my friend J. Mitchell Thorsen—a man who fairly radiates ideas—this subject of loneliness came up. He immediately called my attention to the height of the ceiling in the hotel dining room in which we ate, and told me something that I had never thought of before.

"Hotel experts have learned," he told me, "that few dining rooms pay if their ceilings are over 18 feet high."

I saw the point at once. Big dining rooms with high ceilings produce an effect of distance that makes for loneliness—people won't eat in them.

That's why the "den" in people's homes is so popular. Its cozy, and one may be alone in it and yet not feel lonely.

A great city is an unusually lonely place if you have no friends in it. You may mingle with thousands, and yet be overwhelmed with loneliness.

Nothing in the world is so depressing as loneliness. One must have high courage to overcome it.

Cook By the Clock

There are a lot of things to be done around the house that you can't find a time for when you have to spend so much of the day running back and forth to the kitchen to make sure that the food is cooking properly.

If you have a Westinghouse Automatic Electric Range in your kitchen, you can prepare your food, put it in the oven and forget about it. Complete Automatic Control turns the heat on and turns it off at the exact time you want it done.

After you have set the clock on the range, you can go about some other task, and be sure that the food will start cooking at just the right moment to have it done by meal time. And it will have the rich, juicy flavor that is found only in food cooked just long enough.

NAME DELEGATES TO CONVENTION OF K. OF C. THIS WEEK

Grand Knight Emmett Bergen, of Xenia Council Knights of Columbus and James M. Fletcher, of Xenia Council, are delegates from the local council to the state convention of the "Caseys" being held in Springfield Monday and Tuesday.

The business session including the annual election of officers, selection of delegates to the national convention and selection of a 1924 state convention city, were on the program for Tuesday. Addresses of welcome were made Tuesday morning by Mayor J. E. Furry of Springfield and John C. Cashman, of Springfield Council and the response was given by State Deputy Daniel Butler of Toledo.

James Freeman, of Chicago, representative of the Boy Scouts of America, is scheduled for an address on the subject of "Knights of Columbus Activities Relative to the Boy Scout Movement." Visiting Knights and their wives have been royally entertained in Springfield, the program Monday including an auto trip for the delegates around the city.

The Knights were entertained royally by Assistant Superintendent Edwin J. Price, of the Ohio Masonic Home, who took the visitors through the institution, in which they met many veteran Masons living at the institution, and later addressed them in the chapel on the work the Masons are doing for the aged and welcomed the visitors to the institution. The manifestation of fraternal greeting was warmly received by the visiting Knights, who had their picture taken on the Home steps.

Later the Knights visited the Knights of Pythias Home and the home of the Odd Fellows and in the evening were entertained at a reception, concert, dinner, boxing matches and a card party and dance.

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well-known tonic for the blood. This strength-builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alternative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. This Discovery corrects the disordered conditions in a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and purifies the blood. Write Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential medical advice without charge. All druggists sell Discovery, tablets or liquid. Send 10c for trial pkg.

"My mother read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some, and after a while the blisters gradually disappeared. I was healed." (Signed) Miss Florence Killam, 17237 Gallagher Ave., Detroit, Mich.

HEARING OF DAMAGE ACTION POSTPONED AGAINST VANDERVOORT

The case of Mrs. Mary Mathews against Louis Vandervoort, convict in the Ohio Penitentiary, for $25,000 damages, which was to have begun in Common Pleas Court Wednesday, has been postponed until June 12 on motion of L. T. Marshall, Xenia attorney for the defendant.

The case is a civil action for $25,000 damages in which the plaintiff charges the defendant with the murder of her husband Elvas Mathews, Xenia policeman, who was shot down while patrolling his beat on East Main Street, last December.

Vandervoort is serving time for the murder of Emory McCright, Wilmington policeman, a year ago last February, and C. L. Darlington and F. L. Johnson, attorneys for the plaintiff, have obtained consent of Warden Thomas of the Penitentiary to permit Vandervoort to attend the trial.

The postponement is the second allowed at the request of the defense attorneys, the case having been originally scheduled to be heard early in May.

J. W. Nott was taken into custody by Sheriff Morris Sharp on the Hawkins road, west of Xenia last Friday afternoon after people living in the vicinity had reported that he had been wandering aimlessly about for several hours.

Nott seemed to be laboring under the delusion that he was being made the victim of a mob, which was about to catch and gas him. After being locked up in the County Jail his condition grew worse and he has been violent at times.

Sheriff Sharp wired his sister, Mrs. Minnie Aker, Chicago who wired authorities to hold her brother. She called Sheriff Sharp Monday afternoon and announced that her brother John Nott would come here for the demented man. He arrived Tuesday morning about 7 o'clock and left at 8:30 o'clock on the return trip. THACHER'S ENDED STOMACH TROUBLE STATES AKRON MAN

Jack Chemkose, Well Known Cigar Jobber, Says Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup Soon Relieved His Indigestion and Backache and Gave Him New Life and Energy.

"Some months ago I underwent an operation that pulled me down so much I greatly needed something to build me up, and Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup made me feel like a new man," said Jack Chemkose, well-known cigar jobber living at 250 Oakdale Ave., Akron, O., the other day.

In this connection the public is reminded that Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup is sold by leading druggists who are authorized by the Thacher Laboratories to return the purchase price in any case where the first bottle fails to benefit.

"I was six months suffering from stomach trouble that made my life miserable. Gas would form on my stomach after eating and I would get up at night as a drum. I would hurt clear through to my back, and my back hurt so at times I felt like I would break down just to carry a sample case. Headaches bothered me too, and my kidneys worried me a lot. I was constipated and felt tired out after the least little exertion. That operation weakened me and it looked like I couldn't get back my strength and vigor."

"I was recommended to take Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup and did so with the result that I am now feeling fine and dandy. I think it is remarkable what one bottle did for me, and I want all my friends to know what a splendid tonic Thacher's is."

EVERYTHING IN LIFE HAS A BEGINNING

Chapter I

Natalie Horton was a stenographer, and a very capable one. She was the daughter of poor but ambitious parents—ambitious for her—and had received a good education. Then she had gone to work at $12 a week. That was two years ago, when she was 13. Natalie, at 20, was getting $25, and would soon, she was sure, get more.

She had little more now for her own use than when she first began. Then she had lived at home, paying a small amount for board, while now she was in New York living in a boarding house, where she shared a room with another girl, Etta Davis, also a stenographer. But there were chances in New York for a girl willing to work, private secretarships, confidential clerkships, etc. And Natalie felt that before long she would surely be promoted. She worked in a busy lawyers office. The firm of Marshall, Underwood and Bly was a famous one, also a just one. Mr. Marshall, the head of the firm, had noticed Natalie—or, rather, her work and she confided to Etta that in time she hoped he would take her as private secretary.

Natalie was worth noticing aside from her work, as several young men might have told. She was tall, slender, vivacious. Her black hair, parted and drawn in natural waves over her ears in a way but few girls dare attempt, suited the delicate oval of her face. Her eyes, were large and very dark gray and sparkled under long, black lashes. She had a clear skin, through which a rich color flooded her cheeks at times. She wore her simple, plain clothing with an air—was, in fact, voted "stylish" by her friends, working girls like herself but lacking her cleverness and poise.

Natalie was ambitious, determined to get on, and she was something more than a plodder. She was an up-to-date, wide-awake girl, full of fun and good spirits, and never lacking for attention, although she never had been known to favor one admirer more than another.

"You're a dreadful flirt Natalie," Etta told her.

"No such thing!" she replied. "There's safety in numbers. I've no intention of being anything but my own mistress, so why encourage any particular one?"

Etta sighed. Poor, plain little Etta whose idea of a happy life was a little home somewhere, a husband and babies. Etta was two years older than Natalie and she was earning $5 less a week, the same salary she had been getting for nearly three years. She was a plodding, conscientious worker, without initiative.

Etta would lay her weekly envelope in the drawer without a word, while Natalie would wave hers around, declaring it meant independence and a promise of future success.

This was before Horace Crandell came into the office.

He came the very day Natalie knew she was to have the coveted position of private secretary to Mr. Marshall, at a salary of $40 a week. He was a client, rich, young, distinguished, looking Natalie caught, but a fleeting glimpse of him, but the color flooded her cheeks when he opened the door for her to pass from the office.

She could not know that his eyes followed her, that he admired her; she would have laughed the idea to scorn. She, an office girl!

But in the weeks following her advancement to private secretary to Mr. Marshall young Crandell came often. Natalie sometimes wondered what his business with the firm was. So far nothing relating to him had come under her observation.

Then one day he spoke to her, a simple question as to when Mr. Marshall would be in. But he lingered, mentioned the weather and even then seemed loath to go.

Natalie was astonished that she should be so excited. Other clients often talked to her, and she never blushed and hesitated over her replies. She was annoyed at herself. She took herself to task after he left: "What ails you, Natalie Horton?" she muttered. "Just because a good-looking man speaks to you, you act like a fool! He was only trying to be polite."

But she found it hard to keep her mind on her work. His cultivated voice and his well-groomed form, his handsome, high-bred face kept coming between her and her work. It was not until Mr. Marshall returned and needed her attention that she was able to dismiss Horace Crandell from her mind.

JOINT MILITARY ACTION AGAINST BANDITS LOOMS

Foreign Troops May Attempt Rescue Of
Captives

WARN GOVERNMENT
Notice Served That Prisoners Must Be Released
Within 24 Hours

Washington, May 22.—The United States government stands ready to do everything possible to save the American citizens held captive by the Shantung train bandits, but will act only on the advice of Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister in Peking, it was announced at the White House this afternoon after the cabinet meeting.

The entire session of the cabinet was devoted to a discussion of the Chinese situation and it was made plain that both President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes regard it as extremely serious.

Washington, May 22.—American and other foreign troops stationed in China are said to be preparing to rush to the hills in Shantung province to rescue from the Szechow bandits the American and other foreign prisoners held there.

The diplomatic representatives of all countries whose citizens are included in the group of captives served notice upon the Chinese government that unless the prisoners were released in 24 hours the rescue would be undertaken by foreign troops.

At the same time the diplomatic body announced that, despairing of action by China's officials, they would take up direct negotiations with the bandits for the release of the prisoners before ordering the troops into action.

The peril of the situation of the captives became known through the arrival of Senora Veree, bride of Manuel Veree, the paper manufacturer of Guadalajara, Mexico, who was released by the bandits. She was seriously ill and was taken to a hospital. At the same time a message arrived from the Chevalier Musso, prominent Italian, among the prisoners, and asking that his relatives in Italy be sent a message telling of his resignation to impending death.

This message has stirred the foreigners throughout China and demands are pouring in from private as well as diplomatic sources upon the Chinese government to take action to save the prisoners.

Uprising Feared.

The situation's political turn has caused grave fears that a general uprising against foreigners may spread throughout China, and it was reported that the bandit chiefs, who number among them several who were students in American and European colleges, would hold the prisoners hostages for the resignation of President Li Yuan Hung, demanding a president and government of their own choosing. At the same time the message of the Chevalier Musso indicated that the foreign-hating element of the bandits might bring death to the captives at any moment, despite the more pacific leanings of the student leaders.

Strong pressure was brought to bear upon the state department and white house, urging the United States to take the initiative against the existing chaos in China. Inquiries made of individual members of the cabinet indicate complete unanimity of opinion, favoring an immediate ultimatum to the Chinese government, to be followed by military action in case of failure to comply.

The first problem to be solved is that of securing the safety and freedom of Americans and other foreigners held by the bandits. The second is the urgent necessity of keeping open the large trade avenues, which are practically closed. Had the captives been released when the demands were first made, it is more than likely the incident of the train holdup would have been ignored, at least until fall. Now the situation is such as to demand immediate action, it is believed.

STATE BANKS SHOW INCREASED RESOURCES

Columbus, May 22.—There has been a steady increase in the resources of state banks in the eight largest cities of Ohio for more than a year, according to figures given out today by H. E. Scott, state superintendent of banks.

STORMS IN WESTERN OKLAHOMA TAKE A TOLL OF SEVEN LIVES

Damage to Growing Crops Placed at Several Hundred Thousand Dollars—Nine Counties in Storm Area Reports Indicate.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 22.—The death toll from storms which swept western Oklahoma last night and early today is placed at seven, according to reports received here today. The seven are reported to have lost their lives in the Pan Handle Country. Six of these lives were lost in Dewey County at Leedy, according to reports. Damage to growing crops is estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

GOVERNMENT AGENTS DO NOT UNDERSTAND TAX BLANK SAYS FESS

Cincinnati, O., May 22.—If you can't understand your income tax blank—and its almost a cinch that you can't—there is no need for worry, for even government officials don't understand it.

This admission was made here last night by Senator Simeon D. Fess, who spoke before the Cincinnati Life Underwriters. He said in part:

"The tax laws are revised and amended so often that the employees of the various revenue districts, throughout the country, have not the time to familiarize themselves with the statutes on the books."

GERMANY'S OFFER TO COVER PERIOD OF THIRTY YEARS

Will Offer Fifty Billion Payable in Annuities.

Berlin, May 22.—Fifty billion gold marks, payable in annuities covering a period of 30 years, or 30 billions, "present actual value," in two or three payments, from which there is to be no deduction for interest.

This is said to be the substance of a new reparations offer to the allies which will come before the German cabinet as soon as Chancellor Cuno and Foreign Minister Rosenbergh return to Berlin.

As securities for payment the customs and a number of special monopolies are mentioned. The railways have again been dropped as security, because they are now operating at a large deficit and are not to be regarded as guarantees.

The text of the new note has been completed. Germany in this note in effect adopts Bonar Law's plan. Whether the resignation of the British premier will cause any change in the German government's present intentions is not clear. It is not believed in parliamentary circles, however, that the change in the head of the British cabinet will have any great bearing on the German attitude.

Conklin, President; Ed. S. Foust, Vice-President; A. E. Faulkner, Cashier; W. L. Miller, R. R. Grieve, C. M. Austin, Adolph Moser, W. R. Harner, and George E. Hudson.

BANDIT OBTAINS $4,000 FROM BANK IN COLUMBUS, OHIO

Forces Three Employees to Back of Room at Point of Gun.

Columbus, May 22.—Two armed bandits entered the branch bank of the Citizens Savings and Trust Company at North High and Russell Streets at 9:25 this morning, forced the three employees to the back part of the room, rifled the cash drawer of about $4,000 and escaped despite two shots fired at him by Branch Manager Harry Richter as he was running down Russell Street.

INVESTIGATION OF FATAL ACCIDENT MONDAY STARTED

Carlisle, O., May 22.—Railroad officials today began an investigation of the wreck which occurred at the B. and O. Railroad crossing late yesterday when five persons, three women and two children, were killed, and another seriously injured.

The investigators are attempting to determine if the driver of the truck, in which the family of Bertram Williams was moving from Franklin to Germantown, fainted when he realized his truck was to be hit. Constable C. F. Peters, of Carlisle, an eye witness, believes Jess Gross, 50, driver of the truck, collapsed as his machine approached the crossing when he realized the passenger train was going to hit the truck.

The dead are: Mrs. Margaret Williams, 43; Sarah Williams, 11, daughter of Mrs. Williams; Mrs. Lela Williams, 20, daughter-in-law and her two children, Mary Louise, aged 4 and Robert, aged six months. The injured were Jess Gross, 50, driver of the truck, who received internal injuries from which he is expected to recover and Soren Kindred, 50, bride and cut. The women and children were riding on furniture with which the truck was loaded. Bert Williams, husband of Mrs. Margaret Williams, was in Dayton, and did not learn of the tragedy until last night.

Gross said a nearby elevator building and a cut of cars obscured the view of the track and Engineer S. J. Bennett of the passenger train also said his view was obscured by the cars.

COUNTY SURVEYOR RESIGNS POSITION TO MANAGE FARM

William J. Davis, Greene County surveyor, presented his resignation to the county commissioners, Tuesday, the resignation to take effect Saturday night. According to Mr. Davis, he told the commissioners of his intention several days ago. No successor to the office had been appointed Tuesday afternoon.

The need of a manager for his mother's farm near Hillsboro, is given by Mr. Davis, as the reason for his retirement from the county office. Inability to secure farm labor has left his mother and sister in charge of the farm, which he will have charge until fall.

The resignation of Mr. Davis, affects only his present term and has no effect on the new term, for which he was elected on the Republican ticket last November. He will return to the surveyor's office at the expiration of the present term in September.

Mr. Davis came to Xenia as deputy under former Surveyor, Joseph Fawcett, of Yellow Springs. Upon the retirement of the latter in June 2, 1918, he was appointed to the office for the unexpired term, and later for the full term to which Mr. Fawcett had been elected. He was elected twice to the office the second elective term commencing next September.

SURVIVORS OF ILL-FATED SHIP ARE PICKED UP

Three Hundred and Thirty Persons Are Rescued in St. Lawrence

HITS ROCK IN FOG
Shipping Suffers From
Ice and Inclement
Weather Conditions

Halifax, N. S., May 22.—The Canadian Pacific steamship, Empress of Britain, enroute from Liverpool to Quebec, reported by wireless today that she had picked up 330 persons from the 11,000 ton steamship Marvale, which was sunk yesterday in the St. Lawrence River.

The Marvale was formerly the Albatross liner Corsican. When lost, she was being operated by the Canadian Pacific Company. She was groping her way through a thick fog off the New Foundland coast, when she struck a rock near Trepassy.

A gaping hole was torn in the vessel's hull. Her engines were reversed and the ship was backed off, but she was so badly damaged, it was impossible to beach her. The passengers and crew were taken ashore in small boats but later were picked up by the Empress of Britain which was diverted from her course to take them back to Quebec. Fog and ice have done heavy damage to shipping. The coal carrier, Glen Muriel, from Sydney for Montreal was wrecked in St. George's Bay.

The White Star liner Onxian from Montreal for Liverpool was damaged by ramming an ice floe and was compelled to put into St. Johns for repair, several hours.

The schooner Marcella was crushed by ice and sunk with her cargo of 1200 cases of whiskey off Cape Breton.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF COLONEL YOUNG

Mrs. Ada Young of Wilberforce, widow of Colonel Charles Young, and President J. A. Gregg of Wilberforce University are among local people who will attend the funeral of Colonel Young in Arlington Cemetery, Washington D. C., June 1.

Mrs. Young and President Gregg are named on a committee to attend the funeral by Governor Donahoe, acting in accordance with a bill passed by the State Legislature. The committee also includes as members, State Representative Harry E. Davis, of Cleveland; W. S. Thomas, Mansfield; Captain James E. Bush, Dayton; T. A. Caldwell, Warren and Major O. J. Scott, Columbus, who served as chaplain in Colonel Young's Regiment. Others on the committee are mostly Spanish-American War Veterans.

ASIATIC FLEET OF U. S. NAVY READY

Washington, May 22.—Practically the entire Asiatic fleet of the American navy, consisting of 18 destroyers, a cruiser, a gunboat, a supply ship and auxiliaries, are concentrated at Cebu, Shantung port, nearest the bandit stronghold, ready for any emergency. These vessels are prepared to make landings of crew detachments if deemed necessary. The units, if sent into the interior, would greatly weaken the ships' complements, but it is believed the engineer force left aboard to take care of the machinery could hold off any possible attack from shore. A few gun crews would necessarily be left behind, and the deck forces would be drawn upon for the landing party.

HERRICK DENIES CHARGES OF FRAUD

Columbus, May 22.—State Highway Director Herrick has denied all charges of favoritism, collusion or fraud, relative to the awarding of contracts for road projects. The directors of the four injunction suits instituted by E. C. Slack, Columbus, alleging discrimination against contractors in favor of the Highway Construction Company, Elyria, seeks to enjoin the company from proceeding with highway improvements in Lorain County contracts for which work were awarded the company by Director Herrick. Slack also alleged that there had been favoritism and collusion,

SEEK TO BREAK WILL

Mrs. Ethel Croker White, of Cedarhurst, New York, daughter of the late Richard Croker, for many years leader of Tammany Hall in New York, has been permitted by the Irish courts in Dublin to interpose and become party to the suit brought by her brothers and sisters to break the will of their father, leaving several million dollars to his second wife, Beulah Benton Edmondson Croker and cutting off his children. Croker, whose first wife, Miss Elizabeth Frazier, whom he married in 1873, died, immediately married Miss Edmondson, a Cherokee Indian Princess. In her fight to break her father's will, Mrs. White alleges that at the time of her marriage to Croker, Miss Edmondson was the divorced wife of Guy Morone, of Northport, Massachusetts, and that Croker was ignorant of that fact. Croker spent the last years of his life in Ireland, where he died and was buried. He had long been estranged from all his children.

James Walton, flesh wound in the head;

Lieutenant Harry Otis of West New York, N. J., shot through back, bullet entering stomach.

Sayes, alleged slayer of the policemen, was captured. He was subdued after a fight with other policemen and severely beaten. A woman, who claimed to be Sayes' wife also was arrested.

After the shooting, Sayes took refuge in the attic of a two-story frame structure. He was brought out by the use of tear gas bombs.

In spite of the exchange of shots, Sayes was not wounded. In subduing him, police beat him badly. The woman refused to give any information concerning herself or Sayes. Police said they recognize her as May Miller, a frequenter of dance halls.

Otis came from West New York early today with a warrant for Sayes' arrest and police had information that Sayes was in the house. Six of them surrounded the building, before they had a chance to call on him to surrender. Sayes went to a rear window, police say, and fired one shot that struck Walton in the head.

Black, Ware and Otis entered the front door and went up to the second floor, where Sayes' rooms were. Suddenly policemen outside heard the rattle of shots. They rushed into the place, and at the head of the stairs found all three officers shot. Black and Ware were dead.

A call for ambulances and reserves was sent out. All four victims were taken to the city hospital.

When the reserves reached the scene, the house was again surrounded. Police lines were formed to keep back crowds which gathered. Policemen, with drawn revolvers, entered the building and cautiously worked their way into room after room. They found all of them empty.

Finally Deputy Chief Thomas Wolfe noticed a trap door in the ceiling at one end of a little hallway. He directed his men to stay away from it, then sent to police headquarters for tear gas bombs. When they arrived, he began to hurl them at the trap door.

Police retired into the next room and closed the door. After a moment they opened it cautiously. Wolfe saw the foot of a man protruding from the opening. He seized it and pulled down Sayes, who had been partially overcome by the fumes of the bombs.

CO-EDUCATIONAL COLLEGES HAVE BIG ADVANTAGES TO OFFER

John Palmer Gavitt, feature writer for the New York Evening Post, addressed the students of Antioch, Monday, telling of some of his experiences while visiting various colleges in search of material for his publication. "Most of the places where I go," Gavitt said, "the first move is to show me the buildings. I tell them that I don't care whether their classes are held in a barn or under an umbrella—it's the spirit of the students that I'm interested in. Let me see and talk with the boys and girls, and I can tell any faculty all about their own institution."

"When the heads of Vassar, Smith and Bryn Mawr asked me what I thought of their colleges, I told them that they were nothing but nurseries run by old maids. They retorted by saying that co-educational colleges are merely high grade marmalade schools. In my opinion that's one of the finest things in favor of co-educational schools. After a girl's seen a fellow make an ass of himself for four years, and then marries him, she has only herself to blame. That beats the dance hall and summer resort."

GOVERNMENT TO CONTINUE TORY IN ITS POLITICS

King George Designates
Chancellor of Exchequer
Who Accepts

ACTING PREMIER
Served in That Office
Which Law Was On Continent

London, May 22.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Stanley Baldwin was designated this afternoon by King George as premier of England, in succession to Andrew Bonar Law, who resigned because of ill health.

Chancellor Baldwin was acting premier during the recent absence of Bonar Law on the continent. The government continues to be Tory in politics.

Appointment of Chancellor Baldwin was made practically certain this afternoon when he was summoned to Buckingham palace for a long conference with King George. He left the palace at ten minutes after four. Although in a jubilant and jovial frame of mind, the chancellor had nothing to say to the press.

Baldwin's rise in public life has been rapid. He gained much popularity while chancellor of the exchequer for reducing taxes, reducing the price of beer and negotiating a settlement of the British war debt to the United States.

Baldwin's chief rival for the premiership was Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary. Curzon was opposed by the Tory die hards and by a coalition labor liberal group.

It is understood the failure to name Curzon was sop to the Laborites, who bitterly opposed the appointment of a member of the House of Lords to the premiership. The cabinet is expected to resign automatically tonight. The resignations according to custom would be put in the new premier's hands as soon as his appointment was officially announced. It is the usual procedure for the new prime minister to wait about 24 hours before announcing the personnel of the cabinet. In this instance few changes are anticipated. It is believed Sir Robert Horne will succeed Baldwin as chancellor of the exchequer and that Lord Curzon will continue as foreign secretary.

Baldwin was slightly nervous, but smiling when he returned to 10 Downing street.

"I need your prayers more than your congratulations," said he to an International News Service correspondent. "I cannot say more. An official announcement will be made at once."

FAMOUS FOSDICK CASE MAY COME UP

Indianapolis, Ind. May 22.—The action of the New York legislature in repealing state prohibition enforcement legislation was deplored in a resolution presented to the 135th general assembly of the Presbyterian church here today. President Harding was commended for his stand for enforcement.

The resolution asked that no rum vessels be protected by the United States flag within the three mile limit.

Indianapolis, Ind. May 22.—The possibility of the famous Fostick case coming up for discussion before the meeting of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of America enlivened the deliberations here today.

Successful on only one issue, that of having a "teetotaler" endorsed, and defeated in his ambition with regard to matters, William Jennings Bryan was expected to give the Presbyterians his view on what should be preached in the pulpits.

Others, however, among the Presbyterian commissioners, entertained strong views on the subject, among them the moderator, Dr. Charles F. Wishart, who, although not definitely aligned with the Liberals, has been lined up against Mr. Bryan on most of the matters which he has brought to the forefront of the assembly.

CHAMPION ARMY SHOT ARRIVES IN XENIA FOR VISIT

Corporal Perry Swindler, K. Co., Eighth U. S. Infantry, arrived here Monday from Ft. Moultrie, S. C., where his regiment is now located, to spend a month's furlough with his father, James Swindler, of this city.

This is the first time he has been in Xenia since his enlistment practically four years ago for overseas service. During the majority of that time he was located with his regiment as part of the Army of Occupation stationed at Coblenz, Germany, returning from overseas only a few months ago.

During his army service, Corporal Swindler has qualified as an expert rifleman, pistol expert, and automatic rifleman and during the range tournaments overseas won several prizes because of his shooting prowess. He has a year and one half yet to serve on his last enlistment period.

CLEUTHS CHARGED

WITH MURDER.

Toledo, May 22.—Charles B. Moore, Stephen Kalas and George Butz, three constables working out of Justice Butz's court at Monclova, near this city, were held by the police on first degree murder charges at the request of Coroner Henzler. They killed Anthony Mayer while searching his machine for liquor. Moore, the evidence shows, fired the fatal shot. Coroner Henzler claims the constables had no warrant. Moore fired after Mayer knocked Kalas down.

MRS. HICKEY SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

Worcester, Mass.—"I had some trouble caused by a female weakness and got so run-down and weak from it that I could hardly stand or walk across the floor. The doctor gave me all kinds of pills, but nothing helped me. I happened to meet a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I thought I would try it. After taking it a week I began to improve, and now I feel fine and am doing all of my housework, including washing, sewing and house cleaning. I have recommended your medicine to my friends, and I am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial, as I would like to help any one suffering the way I did from such a weakness."—Mrs. DELIA HICKEY, 4 S. Ludlow St., Worcester, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. This book contains valuable information.

OLD RIVALS COMING SUNDAY.
If old John J. Weather don't step in and knock over Manager Roy Bay-

liff's play-blocks just after he has them all set up for next Sunday afternoon's baseballing program, the electricians will tangle thumbs with the K. R. T. Club, which hails from Wilmington, old athletic rival of Xenia.

The Bayliffs, the Cincinnati Reds, and other great ball teams have been engaged in mortal combat with the weather man this year, and have won only temporary victories with the sleet and snow dispenser. Last Sunday, with one of the biggest games of the season on tap, rain fell in huge and gloomy gobs and closed the turnstiles at Washington Park before the visitors had even arrived on the scene.

It does not take a fan with a very long memory to hark back to the time when the baseball teams coming out of Wilmington represented the snappiest of the snappy. Back in the days of the old Clintons, the Quaker City turned out top-notchers for the semi-pro clubs in this section to gnash their teeth on.

Baseball tried to die at Wilmington, but a group of young business men refused to attend the obsequies. Instead these bugs got together and inaugurated Wilmington's new baseball club, the K. R. T. team—whatever that means. While the new outfit does not have the polish and glamour that identified the old Clintons, it is said to be the kind of baseballing aggregation that Wilmington fans are not ashamed of, and they believe their pets can teach the electricians some new diamond stunts.

Manager Bayliff has not announced Baseball can only lose by being identified with it. "Attendances," he continued, "have broken all records at the Yankee park but I believe they would have been greater if this field and the Polo Grounds had been kept out of the hands of boxing promoters."

"The psychic effect of coupling their names with boxing bouts has been to make the fans overlook the fact that they are intended for baseball only. I don't feel that baseball is gaining the interest it usually does at this stage of the race and I regard boxing as the cause."

It is generally understood that the transaction whereby Tex Rickard was granted permission to run boxing shows at the stadium was one of the reasons for the split between the two colonels. The other was the continued engagement of Miller Huggins as manager of the ball club. They were irreconcilable on both points.

LEAHEY-WALSH NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Leahy, daughter of Mrs. Michael Leahy, of North Miami Avenue, this city, and Mr. Preston Walsh, of Dayton, was solemnized at St. Brigid's Catholic Church, Tuesday morning, at 7:30 o'clock. The nuptial high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Albert A. Burke.

The only decoration of the church, was masses of spring flowers on the church altars. The playing of the bridal march, marked the entrance of the bride party, led by Miss Mary Leahy, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Mr. William Walsh, of Dayton, brother of the bridegroom, who acted as best man. Miss Leahy wore a frock of green tulle, with silver slippers, with a band of green in her hair. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, tied with pink tulle.

The bride and bridegroom entered the church in a procession. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine, fashioned simply, with a veil of tulle falling to the floor, caught with a band of valley lilies. She wore silver slippers, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses, in shower arrangement. The single ring ceremony was used in uniting the couple. During the ceremony the children's choir sang. Thirty-five invited guests witnessed the service.

The wedding was followed by a breakfast at the home of the bride, where the same number of guests were received. The colors of pink and white were carried out in the decorations. A daintily arranged bride's table was centered with a pink and white wedding cake, while pink candles in crystal holders and tied with pink tulle were placed at each cover, and centered the smaller tables. A three course breakfast was served.

The bride tossed her bouquet among the guests, which was caught by Miss Katherine Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Walsh, left Tuesday afternoon, for their home, on Ringold Street, Dayton. Mr. Walsh is employed at the Wright Aviation Field.

Mrs. Walsh wore away an outfit of gray, consisting of a gray crepe dress, with slippers, hat and gloves, to match, with a blue cape.

What Co-operation Has Done

Little more than half a century ago, Gustavus F. Swift borrowed $20 from his father and started in the packing business.

Hard work on his part and on the part of the associates whom he presently gathered about him caused the business to grow.

When first incorporated, Swift & Company had six shareholders. The nation was growing and needed meat, and the young company grew also. As more money was needed the business was enlarged by enlisting the co-operation of more shareholders.

The first little plant at Barnstable, Mass., has given way to 23 modern packing plants strategically located. More than 400 branch houses and 600 car routes distribute the meat carried in more than 6,000 refrigerator cars.

Today Swift & Company's service in meat to retailers here and abroad represents the effort of nearly 100,000 people co-operating with their savings or daily toil.

More than 45,000 men and women have co-operated with us by investing their money in shares of Swift & Company.

Nearly 50,000 men and women who work in these offices, plants and branch houses—16,000 of whom also are shareholders—are giving us their co-operation in building the business. They take a just pride in the promptness and precision of its service and in the uniformity and high quality of its products. Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon, "Silverleaf" Brand Pure Lard, Premium Frankfurts and other Swift products are symbols of their hearty co-operation and of their belief in the Company.

HARDING ON THE LIFE OF ALEXANDER HAMILTON.

The hope and resolution upon which the recovery of the world depends could be attained if the world adopted Alexander Hamilton's conception of financial integrity and the sanctity of obligations. President Harding told Washingtonians gathered to unveil a statue of Hamilton at the Treasury Building last Thursday. He confined his remarks to the career of Hamilton and the lesson for all Americans to be found in that career which had for its keynote the establishment of the new Republic on a sound financial basis. Speaking on Alexander Hamilton was a familiar experience to Mr. Harding as the life of Hamilton was his subject on the Chautauqua tour he made while a member of the Senate.

Three descendants of the great statesman whose memory was being honored took part in the ceremonies—Miss Eleanor E. Hamilton, great-great-granddaughter of the first Secretary of the Treasury, pulled the strings to unveil the bronze statue, and the Rev. Edgar A. Hamilton, of Baltimore, and the Rev. Edgar L. Hamilton, of Anson, Ind., great-grandsons, the former pronouncing the invocation and the latter the benediction.

President Harding said: "I choose to stress the rugged honesty of this patriot statesman, because honesty will cure ten thousand ills of today. Honesty of leadership will share us the popular misconceptions which are ever menacing to democracy. Honesty in statecraft will point the way to impregnable heights. Honesty among nations will dissolve their differences so that new and lasting friendships may be bound by the ties of fraternity and mutual trust. Honesty in politics will reveal unerring public opinion and honesty in public service everywhere will diminish public waste and extravagance. Honesty of manhood and womanhood will abolish the sources of discontent which threaten the world's civilization and will bring us to a conviction regarding the fundamentals of the social fabric without which fundamentals there can be no progress."

SEVEN WONDERS OF THE MODERN WORLD.

Recently the editor of a popular scientific magazine sent letters to nearly one thousand scientists in Europe and America asking them to participate by ballot in a selection of what they considered the seven wonders of the modern world. About seventy per cent of these noted men responded, and the unanimity with which they voted led the editor to announce the result. The Panama Canal missed selection as one of the seven by just eleven votes. The seven modern wonders as agreed to are Radium, the Printing Press, the Wireless, the Aeroplane, Medical Antiseptics and Antitoxins, the Telephone and the X-Ray.

Some of our ministers have chosen to speak of this list in a more or less extended way. One of them, Rev. Dr. G. A. Briegleb, of Westlake, Presbyterian Church, Los Angeles, Cal., has arranged to preach a series of sermons on Sabbath evenings of April and May, in which he makes spiritual application of the physical facts involved. He announces his subjects as follows: Radium, a symbol of divine energy in its outworkings; The Printing Press, a silent witness of an Omnipotent God; The Wireless, a sublime illustration of spirit communication; The Aeroplane, a standing attestation of the possibility of miracles. Medical Antiseptics and Antitoxins, a suggestive reminder of Christian responsibility in civic affairs; The Telephone, a splendid instrument of God for revealing human nature; The X-Ray, a strange process by which the soul can be photographed.

The list as given is very suggestive, as we may be sure that each subject will be handled vigorously and with a sincere purpose of presenting spiritual lessons. If these seven modern wonders may be made to illustrate the eternal and changeless wonders of soul life and soul salvation, they will be used to accomplish good and desirable results.

WAGES FOR WIVES.

"With all my worldly goods I thee endow" is too fanciful and insecure a pledge to suit some of the delegates to the International Woman's Suffrage Alliance.

They think that's all very well for the marriage service, like the bridal veil and strewn rose petals and the sweetly sentimental strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. For the hard and sometimes grim years after the honeymoon, when rice is merely something to be boiled with raisins for a cheap yet tasty dessert, they ask something less poetic but more collectable before the law.

In a word, they want wages for wives. They want the lawmakers of the world to decree that a certain portion of a man's salary or income shall be allotted to his wife. If he does not hand it over voluntarily, they want to attach his pay-envelope.

The loudest advocates of the measure, it is interesting to note, were the delegates from England, where a wife has little legal standing; its most vigorous opponents, the Scandinavian women, whose national laws give a wife support commensurate with her husband's position. The women from the North argued that wages dishonored the married state and reduced wives to the position of paid housekeepers.

How much is a wife worth a week? The question might well be countered with another: How much is a husband worth a week? The statistician who can answer either question could appraise the sunrise and write price tags for the flowers of the field and the soft winds of summer.

The ordinary pay of domesticity is struggle and hope, worries and love, weariness and content, bills and the interest on the mortgage, and the cost of shoes for restless little feet. In a word, it is a sight draft on the not always solvent Bank of Life.—Public Ledger.

SEEMS AS IF FIVE YEARS OUGHT TO BE ENOUGH TO DO THE TRICK IN EVEN IF THEY DIDN'T KNOW HOW IN THE BEGINNING

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The first traction car from the Springfield and Xenia line to go over the D. and X. road made the trip yesterday to Dayton as a sort of experiment. There has been some talk of running the S. and X. cars through to Dayton over the D. and X. line and there is probably some plan of consolidation of the roads on foot.

The new schedule on the Pennsylvania lines will show that nineteen passenger trains will be run between Xenia and Columbus, after Sunday, including both east and west bound trains. Blue prints have been made for double tracking from Spring Valley to Cedarville.

The new addition to the seminary building on West Third Street, the coming summer will make quite a change in that locality, and will be quite an improvement.

Another sale of land to the Hooven and Allison Company has been made by Mr. John W. Prugh. A tract of six acres belonging to F. B. Dress and lying between the Ohio and Xenia Mills has been bought for $1500.

ANSWERED LETTERS

Anxious.—If you write to the makers of the toothpaste and tell them of the stain it made on your skin, they will probably advise you about bleaching it since they would know just what was in their preparation that caused this trouble. Ordinarily peroxide will bleach off a slight stain, so you might try that first.

B. M. F.—Your weight of 117 pounds is normal at 23 years of age with a height of 5 feet 2 inches. Almost any cream will do for cleansing as it is never allowed to remain on the skin any longer than is needed to dissolve the soil in the pores.

Mable.—Deep breathing will help to develop the bust! you will also help it if you dash cold water over it every day and follow this with light friction from a coarse towel.

A. M. and E. J.—At 19 years of age lines in the skin are not serious. Massage some cream into the pores each night and keep up your general health. After a long winter, such as we have had this season, most skins show the effect of it because of our habit of overheating our buildings.

Anxious.—The olive oil prescribed for gaining weight is the same as the best brands used for the diet. The amount that is usually taken is a tablespoonful in the same amount of grape juice three times a day.

Marie A.—Housework does not exercise all of our muscles, so that is the reason it does not keep the figure in perfect trim, but if you add to it by taking enough bending and stretching exercises you have most all of the needed ones to keep the figure supple. An excellent exercise to add is that of bending at waistline while you touch the floor with the tips of your fingers without bending at the knees.

Peggy.—A teacher of elocution or phonetics will help you correct that defect in your enunciation.

Cam.—You will prevent your blond hair from getting dark if you use lemon juice and baking powder in the last rinse after a shampoo. The proportions are two tablespoonfuls of juice, a half of a teaspoonful of soda to each quart of water. I will mail you a formula for the freckles on receipt of stamped, addressed envelope.

Fading.—To bring back that fresh

Today's Talk

There is a difference between being alone and being lonesome. one may be alone in it and yet not feel lonely.

I may be alone and very happy—buried in the spirits of those I love, or in thoughts that wait upon me and run errands for me, or in ideas which spur my mind to its highest achievements.

But to be lonesome—what a feeling of helplessness comes over one.

At luncheon with my friend J. Mitchell Thorsen—a man who fairly radiates ideas—this subject of lonesomeness came up. He immediately called my attention to the height of the ceiling in the hotel dining room in which we ate, and told me something that I had never thought of before.

"Hotel experts have learned," he told me, "that few dining rooms pay if their ceilings are over 18 feet high."

I saw the point at once. Big dining rooms with high ceilings produce an effect of distance that makes for loneliness—people won't eat in them.

That's why the "den" in people's homes is so popular. Its cozy, and

A great city is an unusually lonely place if you have no friends in it. You may mingle with thousands, and yet be overwhelmed with lonesomeness.

Nothing in the world is so depressing as lonesomeness. One must have high courage to overcome it.

Cook By the Clock

There are a lot of things to be done around the house that you can't find a time for when you have to spend so much of the day running back and forth to the kitchen to make sure that the food is cooking properly.

If you have a Westinghouse Automatic Electric Range in your kitchen, you can prepare your food, put it in the oven and forget about it. Complete Automatic Control turns the heat on and turns it off at the exact time you want it done.

After you have set the clock on the range, you can go about some other task, and be sure that the food will start cooking at just the right moment to have it done by meal time. And it will have the rich, juicy flavor that is found only in food cooked just long enough.

NAME DELEGATES TO CONVENTION OF K. OF C. THIS WEEK

Grand Knight Emmett Bergen, of Xenia Council Knights of Columbus and James M. Fletcher, of Xenia Council, are delegates from the local council to the state convention of the "Caseys" being held in Springfield Monday and Tuesday.

The business session including the annual election of officers, selection of delegates to the national convention and selection of a 1924 state convention city, were on the program for Tuesday. Addresses of welcome were made Tuesday morning by Mayor J. E. Furry of Springfield and John C. Cashman, of Springfield Council and the response was given by State Deputy Daniel Butler of Toledo.

James Freeman, of Chicago, representative of the Boy Scouts of America, is scheduled for an address on the subject of "Knights of Columbus Activities Relative to the Boy Scout Movement." Visiting Knights and their wives have been royally entertained in Springfield, the program Monday including an auto trip for the delegates around the city.

The Knights were entertained royally by Assistant Superintendent Edwin J. Price, of the Ohio Masonic Home, who took the visitors through the institution, in which they met many veteran Masons living at the institution, and later addressed them in the chapel on the work the Masons are doing for the aged and welcomed the visitors to the institution. The manifestation of fraternal greeting was warmly received by the visiting Knights, who had their picture taken on the Home steps.

Later the Knights visited the Knights of Pythias Home and the home of the Odd Fellows and in the evening were entertained at a reception, concert, dinner, boxing matches and a card party and dance.

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well-known tonic for the blood. This strength-builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alternative Extract. The case of Mrs. Mary Mathews against Louis Vandervoort, convict in the Ohio Penitentiary, for $25,000 damages, which was to have begun in Common Pleas Court Wednesday, has been postponed until June 12 on motion of L. T. Marshall, Xenia attorney for the defendant.

The case is a civil action for $25,000 damages in which the plaintiff charges the defendant with the murder of her husband Elvas Mathews, Xenia policeman, who was shot down while patrolling his beat on East Main Street, last December.

Vandervoort is serving time for the murder of Emory McCraith, Wilmington policeman, a year ago last February, and C. L. Darlington and F. L. Johnson, attorneys for the plaintiff, have obtained consent of Warden Thomas of the Penitentiary to permit Vandervoort to attend the trial.

The postponement is the second allowed at the request of the defense attorneys, the case having been originally scheduled to be heard early in May.

J. W. Nott, Chicago, Ill., who has been mentally afflicted and has been held in the County Jail here since last Friday, was taken to his home in Chicago Tuesday by his brother, John Nott, of that city.

J. W. Nott was taken into custody by Sheriff Morris Sharp on the Hawkins road, west of Xenia last Friday afternoon after people living in the vicinity had reported that he had been wandering aimlessly about for several hours.

Nott seemed to be laboring under the delusion that he was being made the victim of a mob, which was about to catch and gas him. After being locked up in the County Jail his condition grew worse and he has been violent at times.

Sheriff Sharp wired his sister, Mrs. Minnie Aker, Chicago, who wired authorities to hold her brother. She called Sheriff Sharp Monday afternoon and announced that her brother John Nott would come here for the demented man. He arrived Tuesday morning about 7 o'clock and left at 8:20 o'clock on the return trip. THACHER'S ENDED STOMACH TROUBLE STATES AKRON MAN

Jack Chemkose, Well Known Cigar Jobber, Says Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup Soon Relieved His Indigestion and Backache and Gave Him New Life and Energy.

"Some months ago I underwent an operation that pulled me down so much I greatly needed something to build me up, and Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup made me feel like a new man," said Jack Chemkose, well-known cigar jobber living at 250 Oakdale Ave., Akron, O., the other day.

In this connection the public is reminded that Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup is sold by leading druggists who are authorized by the Thacher Laboratories to return the purchase price in any case where the first bottle fails to benefit.

"I was six months suffering from stomach trouble that made my life miserable. Gas would form on my stomach after eating and I would feel tight as a drum. I would hurt clear through to my back, and my back hurt so at times I felt like I would break down just to carry a sample case. Headaches bothered me too, and my kidneys worried me a lot. I was constipated and felt tired out after the least little exertion. That operation weakened me and it looked like I couldn't get back my strength and vigor."

"I was recommended to take Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup and did so with the result that I am now feeling fine and dandy. I think it is remarkable what one bottle did for me, and I want all my friends to know what a splendid tonic Thacher's is."

Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup is handled by G. O. Carpenter of Jamestown.

THE MISFIT

EVERYTHING IN LIFE HAS A BEGINNING

Chapter I

Natalie Horton was a stenographer, and a very capable one. She was the daughter of poor but ambitious parents—ambitious for her—and had received a good education. Then she had gone to work at $12 a week. That was two years ago, when she was 15.

Natalie, at 20, was getting $25, and would soon, she was sure, get more. She had little more now for her own use than when she first began.

Then she had lived at home, paying a small amount for board, while now she was in New York living in a boarding house, where she shared a room with another girl, Etta Davis, also a stenographer. But there were chances in New York for a girl willing to work, private secretarieships, confidential clerkships, etc. And Natalie felt that before long she would surely be promoted. She worked in a busy lawyers office. The firm of Marshall, Underwood and Bly was a famous one, also a just one. Mr. Marshall, the head of the firm, had noticed Natalie—or, rather, her work—and she confided to Etta that in time she hoped he would take her as private secretary.

Natalie was worth noticing aside from her work, as several young men might have told. She was tall, slender, vivacious. Her black hair, parted and drawn in natural waves over her ears in a way but few girls dare attempt, suited the delicate oval of her face. Her eyes, were large and very dark gray and sparkled under long, black lashes. She had a clear skin, through which a rich color flooded her cheeks at times. She wore her simple, plain clothing with an air—was, in fact, voted "stylish" by her friends, working girls like herself but lacking her cleverness and poise.

Natalie was ambitious, determined to get on, and she was something more than a plodder. She was an up-to-date, wide-awake girl, full of fun and good spirits, and never lacking for attention, although she never had been known to favor one admirer more than another.

"You're a dreadful flirt Natalie," Etta told her.

"No such thing!" she replied. "There's safety in numbers. I've no intention of being anything but my own mistress, so why encourage any particular one?"

Etta sighed. Poor, plain little Etta, whose idea of a happy life was a little home somewhere, a husband and babies. Etta was two years older than Natalie and she was earning $5 less a week, the same salary she had been getting for nearly three years. She was a plodder, conscientious worker, without initiative.

Etta would lay her weekly envelope in the drawer without a word, while Natalie would wave hers around, declaring it meant independence and a promise of future success.

This was before Horace Crandell came into the office.

He came the very day Natalie knew she was to have the coveted position of private secretary to Mr. Marshall, at a salary of $40 a week. He was a client, rich, young, distinguished-looking. Natalie caught but a fleeting glimpse of him but the color flooded her cheeks when he opened the door for her to pass from the office.

She could not know that his eyes followed her, that he admired her; she would have laughed the idea to scorn. She, an office girl!

But in the weeks following her advancement to private secretary to Mr. Marshall young Crandell came often. Natalie sometimes wondered what his business with the firm was. So far nothing relating to him had come under her observation.

Then one day he spoke to her. A simple question as to when Mr. Marshall would be in. But he lingered, mentioned the weather and even then seemed loath to go.

Natalie was astonished that she should be so excited. Other clients often talked to her, and she never blushed and hesitated over her replies. She was annoyed at herself. She took herself to task after he left: "What ails you, Natalie Horton?" she muttered. "Just because a good-looking man speaks to you, you act like a fool! He was only trying to be polite."

But she found it hard to keep her mind on her work. His cultivated voice and his well-groomed form, his handsome, high-bred face kept coming between her and her work. It was not until Mr. Marshall returned and needed her attention that she was able to dismiss Horace Crandell from her mind.

Paige-Timken Rear Axles—99.8% Dependable!

THIS Paige-Timken rear axle has delivered phenomenal service in the Jewett Six. A careful factory check-up recently made on the first 20,000 Jewetts in use revealed that only two-tenths of 1% had ever had any axle trouble whatever—even including those due to accidents.

A remarkable record—said to be unequalled in the history of the industry. But it is typical of Jewett's stout and dependable construction. Extra-tough steel and ample size give this Paige-Timken rear axle of the Jewett a great surplus of strength for safety. See Jewett Six for yourself—get the facts of its Paige engineering, big Six qualities. We'll be glad to explain them to you.
